Tuna Gas Release Incident

Reference: 2

On 28th July there was a significant release of gas at the Tuna platform, which is operated by Esso Australia Pty Ltd (EAPL). The gas did not ignite and there were no injuries.

EAPL reported the incident to NOPSA in accordance with the requirements of the applicable OHS legislation, and have launched their own investigation. EAPL has also advised that they will issue a safety alert regarding the incident once their investigation is complete.

A NOPSA inspector was at a nearby offshore facility at the time of the incident, and attended on site the following day to commence a separate investigation.

Further details will be made available by NOPSA when this investigation is completed.
